Zoom Player is a robust media and DVD front-end player. It was designed to be simple at first glance while being remarkably dynamic and flexible when used to its full potential. It works in two modes: a Media mode which can play any file supported by DirectShow (any file which plays in MediaPlayer) and a DVD mode which uses pre-installed DirectShow DVD filters to play DVD content. It supersedes media player in all it's functions and provides several important functions that media player lacks. It provides special zooming functions to improve TV-output quality by eliminating overscan. Fully Functional (uncrippled) trial version with Windows Media DRM playback support.Zoom Player has the following other editions available: USB Over Network is a revolutionary software solution from FabulaTech. No need to move devices from one computer to another, and no need to buy expensive hardware switches. You can access a USB device connected to a remote computer from your computer via a LAN or the Internet as if it were physically plugged into your own PC.The program consists of a "Server" and a "Client". You should install the Server on the computer to which the device you want to share is physically connected.

You can install the Client on all PCs from which you need to access the shared device. Brilliant Database is a simple, straightforward, and easy-to-use database that has a tree-like structure. The main distinctive feature is what is called "freestyle forms", which means that there are no rigid templates and structures that you have to use. This unique feature allows you to design your database as you wish, thus making working with database much easier.
