

Alternative Approaches
to
English-Speaking Cultures
English-Speaking Cultures
in the 19th Century

Editor
Nóra Séllei

Assistant editor
Tamás Bényei

Language editors
Donald E. Morse
Michael Steiner

Technical editors
Szabocs Szilágyi
Ágoston Tóth

Debrecen, 1999

CONTENTS

Introduction i

WOMEN'S WAYS

Patsy Stoneman

"Jane Eyre" on Stage: Forty Years of Melodrama 3

Nóra Séllei

What is Heathcliff? 20

Sarolta Marinovich

Aurora Leigh and Feminist Dialogics 29

Corina Anghel

Emily Dickinson's Second World: Metamorphoses of the Self 41

Éva Federmayer

"A Call to Higher Service and Nobler Life": Frances Ellen Watkins Harper's Iola Leroy, or Shadows Uplifted 50

READ BY THE 19TH CENTURY

Antal Bókay

Romanticism: Constructed and Deconstructed 61

Ildikó Csengei

The Bildungsroman as the Unreadability of the Bildungsroman 71

György Kalmár

A Contract with the Devil: Writing and Evil in Thomas Hardy's The Woodlanders 80

Tamás Béneyei

The Critic as Guest: Reading (in) Jekyll and Hyde 89

"THE PAST IS A FOREIGN COUNTRY" (?)

Ágnes Péter

The Old Sin Expiated: Keats, New Historicism, and its Relevance in Hungarian Critical Discourse 101

István Rác

Dickens and Son: On a Novel by Charles Dickens and a Poem by Philip Larkin 120

Marianna Gula
The Political Ballad in Joyce's Ulysses 126

Csilla Bertha
Transfigurations of Cathleen ni Houlihan 139

INTERFACES

Donald E. Morse
"Not Till We Are Lost": Nineteenth-Century Millerism and the Ideas of Apocalypse, Progress, Deep Time, and Natural Selection 151

Gabriella Vöö
Victorian Science Informing Melville's Clarel 163

Iustin Sfariac
Disharmony and Quest in Hawthorne's "Young Goodman Brown" 172

Péter Szaffkó
Alternative Approaches to Nineteenth-Century English-Canadian Drama 178

Zsuzsanna Budai
The Constant Flux of Cultural Forms: Otherness in the 19th Century 186

VISUAL ARTS AND ARTISTIC VISIONS

Márta Árkai
"I have had a most rare vision": Henry Fuseli's Midsummer Nightmare 197

Éva Antal
William Blake's Visions of Vision 206

Appendix: Illustrations 215